

REPARATIONS

Chicago 2016

Our Sisters and Brothers on the Continent of Africa, in Europe, in the Caribbean and South America (particularly Brazil and Columbia) are waging a global struggle for repair at this very moment. Blacks in America are out of step with our global family in this regards.

N'COBRA, the National Coalition of Blacks for Reparations in America has not let up in our righteous struggle for Blacks to be repaired in this country. In fact, it has been N'COBRA that has at various times led the international conversation that inspired our Brothers and Sisters globally to engage this battle. As they fight against the European powers, in addition to N'COBRA, the Black Is Back Coalition for Social Justice, Peace and Reparations, the North American Reparations Task Force, various social media forces, and the newly formed National African American Reparations Committee, Blacks in America are once more becoming engaged against the United States Government – one of the biggest players in this global criminal enterprise that is ongoing.

As we formulate a new Black Agenda - one that crafts strategy and policies to advance us from the state of injury to repair, from injury to wholeness, from injury to health, to avoid the causation of these injuries (the global crimes against African humanity by the United States government, corporations, institutions and prominent families) - would also be continuing the original crime.

Public Policy Recommendations

Thus, the National Black Agenda should have as the following goals:

1. Develop a resolution and push nationally and locally for all government parties to recognize, honor work fully to incorporate the International Decade of People of African Descent into public policy with the themes
 - a. Recognition
 - b. Justice
 - c. Development
2. Aid in enforcing the Durban Declaration and Program of Action which states
 - a. Slavery, the Trans-Atlantic slave trade, colonialism and apartheid (Jim Crow segregation) were crimes against humanity
 - b. That there was an economic basis to those crimes that enrich the racists and impoverished and injured the victims (which is still evident in the descendants of both groups)
 - c. There is an obligation on behalf of the criminal to repair the wrongs

What Community and Individuals Can Do

3. Sign on and support the Reparations Enforcement Movement, initiated by N'COBRA Chicago Chapter that utilizes the direct action model of activism to target corporations and institutions that criminally injured our ancestors and has led to the current self-destructive and alienated states within the African descendant community.
4. Sign on and support the call for a presidential executive order for the creation of the John Hope Franklin Initiative and Commission for Reparatory Justice for People of African Descent

(African Americans) is being called by the National African American Reparations Commission (NAARC).

5. Sign on and support the (NAARC) revised HR40 Bill being submitted to Congressman Conyers that will call for reparations proposals and not simply a study.
